Paid petition-writers will also continue to work as such, until the end of November, 1949, after which they should apply for fresh licenses if they desire to continue that work.

Provided further that these rules shall not apply to any Advocate or pleader in respect of a petition written for presentation to a Court in which he is qualified to practise whether such petition be written by himself or his clerk on his behalf provided that in the latter case it be signed by his employer.

3. No petition shall be received by a Court or an Officer unless it is written by the party or his recognised agent, or by a legal practitioner or by a petition-writer except in the case of an application filed by an accused person in custody provided the name of and status of the person writing the document appears on it.

4. No person shall be licensed as a petition-writer while he is in the service of Government or of any Indian State or States Union or of a Legal Practitioner, nor shall any person be so licensed within six months of his quitting the service of a Legal Practitioner.
